

Hi, my name is Muhammad Rizki Ramadhan.

I'm a Web Developer with around three years of experience using React, Next.js, TypeScript, and Node.js to build modern and responsive web applications.

Currently, I work as a Web Developer, where I build frontend interfaces, develop APIs, and collaborate with teams on real projects. I also have experience creating real-time dashboards using Next.js and WebSocket.

I'm interested in joining as a Frontend Developer Intern because I want to improve my skills, gain more experience, and contribute to your team.

I'm a fast learner, adaptable, and passionate about frontend development.

Thank you for your time.
